BAD EFFECT IN SPECULATION

Violent and Feverish Stages of Buying Reacted and Large Gains Wiped Out.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, November 3.—For the fourth consecutive day sales of stocks today exceeded a million shares for the day on the stock exchange. This counts the fifty dollar reading shares as full shares. As reading absorbed the overwhelming proportion of the day's dealings the comparison with ordinary days of extreme activity is considerably affected. The movement in reading dominated attention throughout the day. Its moderate advance in the morning carried the market with it, but in its more violent and feverish stages the effect upon the general speculation became unfavorable. As a consequence the market moved contrary to reading. The response to fluctuations being remarkably close. Also as a consequence the considerable gains which were established at one time were entirely wiped out when reading was in the course of its higher flights.

Fears continued that a corner in the stock was about to be precipitated, which would bring about the general market. The buying in call money late in the day emphasized the influence of the banking outlook and the possibility of a corner when the market was in a case where special movements had been in force. Amongst the movements that in Erie was a sort of panic in the reading movement, and in the same hands.

Other special movements were in Canada, Erie, smelting and railroads. In Canada, reading closed at 11.35, a rise of 5/8 over night and 3 points above the high price touched yesterday.
